A German scientist has succeeded in obtaining a chemical composition by means of which a mirror image may be fixed and sold as a photograph.

With this composition the mirror surface is painted, and the back part of the mirror receives also a coating of oil. The mirror thus prepared is held before the person to be photographed.

The oil coating evaporates, and the likeness of the person remains in natural colors on the light surface. The image so fixed is brought into a bath, and is exposed for a half hour in the sunlight before it is ready for delivery.

"Are you lost, my little fellow?" asked a gentleman of a 4-year old, one day in Rochester. "No," he sobbed, in reply, "b-but my mother is."

Three weeks of surf bathing is said to grow an entire new skin on the end of a woman's nose, while its only effect on a man is to harden his corns.

BRIEFS BY WIRE.

Father O'Reilly, of Oage City, Kansas, recently dismissed from the pulpit for undue intimacy with married women, undertook to whip "Texas Frank" and a saloon keeper, the other day, and miraculously escaped with his life.

The eighth annual Industrial Exposition was opened at Louisville Tuesday evening, with a concert, under the direction of Prof. Eichhorn. The arrangement of exhibits is more nearly complete than ever before at the same time.

The International Congress of Commerce and Industry opened in Brussels yesterday. There was a large attendance, with delegates from England, France, Germany, Italy, Spain and Austria, and some representatives from the United States.

The reported summons to General Skobloff to come to Luadia, is variously interpreted. It is thought in some quarters to be connected with the possibility, which at present is not altogether averted, of complication with China.

The Portuguese steamer belonging to the recently established Coanza company has steamed up the Congo to Noki, two hours sail from Bibi, the headquarters of Henry M. Stanley's expedition. Stanley told the captain of the steamer that his object was not commerce, but to open a path for future traders.

Gen. Skobloff has been summoned by the Czar to Livadia, to participate in the further prosecution of the Tikh expedition. It is understood that Gen. Skobloff insists upon the necessity of punishing the Turkmans of Merr.

The new opera house which was to grace the Thames embankment, London, is not likely to rise with the touch of the enchanter's wand. The ground rent is $15,000 per annum, and over half a year is due. The Metropolitan Board of Works have, in consequence, served notice to quit.

Postmaster General Maynard is disturbing the peace of his subordinates by making frequent tours of all the bureaus and putting in new men where he thinks they are needed. Many of his personal friends have been provided for, and employees whose backing is not so strong now as when they were appointed find that they are losing their grip very rapidly.

While a Democratic procession was parading the streets at Washington, Ind., a negro on the sidewalk recognized an enemy in the ranks, and not being near enough to cut him with a razor, fired a revolver at him. The ball missed its mark, but sped over the heads of the marchers, and buried itself in the skull of Perry Wilson, of Perryville, who was standing on the other side of the street. Wilson was a Republican.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

ILLINOIS.

Havana, on the Illinois river, ships from ten to twenty barrels of fish to St. Louis daily.

Judge Franklin Blades, of Iroquois county, will for a year reside in Normal, where a son and daughter attend school.

The Peoria police force made one hundred and thirty-seven arrests in August, and the police courts imposed $1,434 in fines.

A ride of a few miles in any direction from Springfield will convince the most skeptical that there is no danger of a corn famine, the drouth notwithstanding.

Willie and Paul, sons of W. T. Dowdall, of the Peoria Democrat are down with the scarlet fever. Guy, the youngest son, had it a few weeks ago, but has recovered.

The Mexican veterans are making preparations to have one of the largest times, next week, at their reunion in Peoria, that was ever held at a reunion in the west.

A number of colored children of Quincy attempted to secure seats in the Jackson school, at the opening this week, but were prevented by the teachers and members of the board of education.

An old and unfruitful apple tree, near Maroa, Macon county was stripped of its bad bark last spring and resuscitated. Within a week bark formed all over the body, and the tree was loaded with apples for the first time.

A Pinafore company composed of twenty-four scions of the best stock of Atlanta, after a tour of a few days among neighboring towns, landed in Bloomington, the other day, in a state of dire and disastrous impecuniosity.

INDIANA.

All but ten counties of the State have forwarded their statistical report to the State bureau.

A Howard county minister, said to be unwisely fond of the fair sex, has mysteriously disappeared.

Allen Nichols, a resident of Lawrence county, ran into his house near Fayetteville, speechless, and remained so till next morning, when he died. It is supposed that he had been bitten by a snake.

Farmers around Lafayette will commence sowing wheat the last of this week. The ground is now in fine condition and the prospects are that a larger crop will be put out this year than there was last year.

MICHIGAN.

A genuine, large, spotted salamander was plowed up near Battle Creek, one day last week, and was presented to the High School museum. This is a rare and curious specimen.

In some localities around Reed City, Osceola county, nearly two-thirds of the orchards that were set out a few years ago for choice fruit have turned out to be the Siberian crab apple tree, worth little or nothing to the farmer.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee consumed 90,578,419 gallons of water last week, the daily average showing an increase of 1,898, 189 gallons over the corresponding week last year.

Two hundred and fifty miles of telephone wire are now strung in Milwaukee, and the telephone connections made at the central office average fully 5,000 daily.

The Van Kirk-Town wedding at Ripon came off according to appointment, the clandestine husband and wife concluding to get married over again in public and in the usual way.

A farmer in the town of Chilton, Calumet county, sowed eighty bushels of wheat, which cost him $1.25 a bushel. He thrashed forty bushels and sold it for eighty cents a bushel.

During a storm at Depere the wife of Cornelius Adams, Mrs. Martha Hill's two daughters and son Jonas drove into the brush by the roadside and got under the wagon for shelter. While there a tree was blown upon them, and all were quite seriously injured.

On to-morrow (Thursday) a memorial service will be held at St. John's cathedral, Milwaukee, in commemoration of the sad event of the loss of Lady Elgin, which was run into and sunk off Point Winnetka, sixteen miles north of Chicago, twenty years ago. Of the 500 passengers on board fully 400 were Milwaukeeans, and a large proportion were members of the cathedral parish.

IOWA.

A farmer in Osborne county has this year raised a cucumber four feet in length.

The Jarnette Tragedy.

At Danville, Va., the trial of Thos. Dr. Jarnette, who killed his sister in a house of ill-fame on July 9, has begun in the corporation court and is attracting more interest than any similar case ever known here. The prisoner and the deceased came of excellent parentage, being children of the late Dr. Jarnette, of North Carolina, one of the wealthiest and most prominent men of his day in that day. The murdered girl was 18, beautiful, accomplished and cultivated. She was seduced by a man of the world several months prior to her entering the house in which she was killed by her brother. Dr. Jarnette killed his sister, he said, to save the honor of his family. He has manifested the utmost coolness during the trial, which is likely to occupy several days. There are eight white and four colored men in his jury.

Robbed.

A man boarding at the Darrow House, on South Calhoun street, was robbed last night of a watch and $5.00 in money. There is not the slightest clue to the perpetrator. The victim resides at Columbia City.

ROSCOE CONKLING'S GAR FISH

[New York Sun.]

I've been a-fishing as you know; I bought a salmon stream; And thus at last I realized My boyhood's happy dream

But when I cast my careful hook, Which I had baited well, There rose a mean Ohio fish And swallowed hook and snell.

I took that scaly, bony gar, And laid it on the ground; I cut it, and within the fish An Arthur smelt I found.

I mean to cook the thing, of course, Although that sort of fish Can never be for me and mine A palatable dish.

Its scales and bones and tasteless flesh Will be but wretched stuff; In place of what I hoped to have This meal is rather rough.

For every ill some good must come, As I have often felt, And I will cook the gar, to save That precious Arthur smelt.

I mean to fry the thing, and need No man to tell me how; But it is hard to start a fire, And I'm not hungry now.

Take Notice.

Read the following from the Louisville Commercial, July 6, 1880.

The Kentucky State Lottery is an institution whose character has been sustained by both the State and the United States Supreme Courts. It is the oldest established lottery corporation in this country, and is offered by men of experience and integrity, who deserve to enjoy the confidence of the public. In all the many contracts with the State, and extending over a period of sixty years, every obligation has been filled to the letter. Throughout the State may be found universities, male academies, female seminaries, public works and charitable institutions wholly supported and maintained by the income derived from the Old Kentucky State Lottery.

The Kentucky State Lottery Co.'s next drawing will take place

September 15th.

The Reporter at Rest.

In response to a call published previously in all the city papers, the members of the city press assembled at the counting room of the News office last evening, for the purpose of taking some action regarding the funeral of the late lamented "Con" Conover.

W. D. Page was elected chairman of the meeting, and F. J. Woulfe, Secretary.

A committee on resolutions, consisting of Messrs. Cooper, Fowler and Chittenden, was appointed by the chair, and reported as follows:

WHEREAS, We his late associates, have learned with profound sorrow of the death of Addison V. D. Conover, for many years prominently connected with the press of this city, and our grief prompts us to give an expression to our feelings that will in some way attest our appreciation of the qualities of our late companion.

We recognize in the death of Mr. Conover no common bereavement. A long and intimate association with him had led us to regard him with especial affection as a man who combined in himself qualities of head and heart that are far too rare to be lightly appreciated.

In pursuit of his calling we have observed his patient, untiring industry, his loyalty to the best promptings of the human heart and his painstaking zeal to quickly lay before the public pure and truthful reports of whatsoever his facile pen might chronicle. His amiability under the heaviest afflictions and in the midst of sickness has been the source of our constant admiration, as his fortitude and cheerfulness reflected the noble Christian character within. Never in good health, and almost constantly suffering from his terrible ailment that threatened to cut him off, he wrapped his sorrows within his own mind, and to wife, children and friends exhibited a continuous cheerfulness that made his society the joy of those he met.

As a citizen and friend, Mr. Conover was of more than ordinary worth. His sterling sense of honor and his loyalty to the best interests of Fort Wayne were conspicuous traits of his character. Earnest in honorable pursuits, patient in sorrow, hospitable and friendly to the humblest, his memory, like a ray of sunshine, warms and beautifies and enriches with its splendor all who were privileged to know this ubiquitous reporter.

To his bereaved family we offer our sincerest sympathies. We know how dear he must have been to them. We know how greatly the irreparable affliction must test the Christian fortitude of the widow and children, who sit sorrowing about the vacant chair, consoled only in their mourning, by reflecting on the stainless life and many virtues of our deceased friend.

Resolved, That Mr. Conover was possessed of the best traits of manly character, and of personal and professional integrity.

Resolved, That in view of his exemplary character and high worth in his calling, we deplore his loss to journalism and to the community, and shall ever cherish in the warmest recollection the memory of his many virtues.

Resolved, That the loss of a husband and father, such as this man was, is beyond calculation, and in this, their hour of deep sorrow, we tender to the widow and fatherless children our most heartfelt sympathy.

Resolved, That all members of the press, both of the editorial and working departments, be and are hereby respectfully invited to attend the funeral services of the late A. V. D. Conover, to be held to-morrow, Thursday afternoon.

Resolved, That as a body we will attend the funeral of the deceased, and that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the widow and be published in the current issues of the daily press.

W. P. COOPER,
HENRY H. FISHER,
E. L. CHITTENDEN.

September 8, 1880.

The above were unanimously adopted and a committee on arrangements, composed of the following gentlemen, was appointed: A. L. Griebel, Geo. L. Benson and C. S. Taylor.

The following members were appointed as pall bearers: Gus Lankenau, of the States Zeitung; F. J. Woulfe, of the SENTINEL; Henry E. Fisher, Silas McMannus and Frank J. Healy.

The following resolution was then adopted:

Resolved, That all members of the press, both of the editorial and working departments, be and are hereby invited to attend the funeral services of the late A. V. D. Conover, to be held to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the same place at 2:45 this afternoon where carriages will be in waiting.

Rebel Claims, &c.

The Hon. John Sherman, in his speech at the Rink last night, said that if the Democrats get into power, they will, among other things, pay the "rebel claims," the "rebel debt," and "pension the rebel soldiers," &c. This is the kind of political clap-trap Republican orators have been using for years. It is simply an appeal to the ignorance and prejudices of their hearers. Mr. Sherman, no more than any other intelligent Republican, believes a word of it.

I observed that the Hon. L. M. Ninde, the Republican Elector for the 12th district, was present at the meeting last night and "had the pleasure of introducing" the Hon. John to the audience.

As evidence that Republicans don't believe this charge that they make against the Democrats, to-wit: That they will, if they come into power, "pension rebel soldiers," &c., I here-with subjoin an extract from a speech delivered in this city, eight years ago, by the Hon. L. M. Ninde. He was more liberal in his political views at that time, and more charitable to the South, than he is probably at the present time. He said: "But we are told that if Greeley should be elected he would be controlled by the Southern Democracy, and forced to pay for the former slaves, assume the rebel debt, and pay rebel pensions!" and repudiate our own public debt, and withhold the pensions paid to our own soldiers and their widows and orphans, and their public speakers and writers have intimated that there was danger of a re-enslavement of the colored race.

To an audience like this I will not stop to disprove these statements. You have read and thought too much to know that the payment for slaves and the "pensions to rebel soldiers," and the assumption of the rebel debt, as well as the perpetual freedom of the slaves, are now controlled by constitutional enactment, which cannot be disturbed but by a vote of two-thirds of your Congressmen and the concurrence of three-fourths of the States. You know too well that public opinion, with at least thirty millions of our people, is unalterably fixed in support of these constitutional provisions under such considerations as intelligent, thoughtful and reading audience needs no argument to show the absolute absurdity of those pretended apprehensions of the Administrative party. They know such statements are without foundation. They put them forth to control the ignorant, but more especially to excite the apprehension of the colored people and to secure their support. It is never expected that a community like this will believe one word of their statements on this subject.

J. R. B.
